DETAILED ACTION

Terminal Disclaimer

1. The terminal disclaimer filed on 3/30/06 has been reviewed and is accepted. The terminal disclaimer has been recorded.

Information Disclosure Statement

2. The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on 10/11/05 is considered.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-15 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-3, 6-11, 14, 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lew et al. (5,181,505). Lew et al. disclose an apparatus comprising elements carrying out the steps as claimed. Wherein the apparatus comprising: an resilient implant (10 and 10") inherently having elasticity to be biased toward a rest portion to provide a passage therethrough, with the broadest reasonable interpretation, the implant placed beneath a mucosal surface of said pharyngeal wall (fig. 3) when looking down from the top/nose, the implant includes collagen fibers, a fibrosis-inducing material (col. 8).

6. Claims 1-4, 6-12, 14, 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Johnson et al. (6,098,629). Johnson et al. disclose an implant and method including all the steps as claimed. Wherein the implant being made from polyester (col. 8) and being placed beneath a mucosal surface and including fibrosis inducing material (col. 8). Note: The introductory statement of intended use and all other functional statements have been carefully considered but are deemed not to impose any structural limitations on the claims distinguishable over the device of Johnson which is capable of being used as claimed if one desires to do so.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 4, 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lew et al. '505. Lew et al. disclose the implant being made polymer. Although, Lew et al. do not disclose the polymer being polyester, polyester is a well known material in the art to make implant since it is biocompatible material. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to make Lew et al.'s implant from polyester. Doing so would amount to mere substitution of one material for another within the same art that would perform equally well in Lew et al.'s implant.

Double Patenting

9. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

10. Claims 1-4, 6-12, 14, 15 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-21 of U.S. Patent No. 6,513,530. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims of this application are anticipated by the claims of the patent.

11. Claims 1-4, 6-12, 14, 15 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-21 of U.S. Patent No. 6,250,307. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims of this application are anticipated by the claims of the patent.

Conclusion

12. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
